Standard Volunteer Disclaimer Form

All volunteers are required to read, understand and sign this disclaimer in order to carry out volunteer's duties within the Graduate School of the Environment in the Division of Environmental and Life Sciences, Macquarie University.

As a volunteer, you will be assisting in projects run on limited resources. You assist of your own free will in order to gain experience and knowledge. The researchers you will be assisting are undertaking post-graduate degrees and can afford you a limited amount of help with orientation and supervision. This includes assistance with initial organisation of accommodation and travel arrangements, and some further project guidance on an ad hoc basis.

Data you gather is the intellectual property of Macquarie University. Any subsets of data you wish to take or use are subject to strict confidentiality agreements and therefore necessitate a notification of request including a clear outline of the intended use. Volunteers should also be aware that while Macquarie University covers you under travel insurance, you are strongly advised to acquire further individual insurance of your own.

I, (print name) _____, have read and understood all details in the above disclaimer and agree to carry out duties as a research assistant/volunteer under the conditions outlined.
